

SGA Announces Officer Nominees

At a student body meeting on February 9, the slate of nominees for the 1963-64 Student Government Association president and the Honor Council president was announced. SGA presidential candidates are Carolyn Hawker, Van Newman and Bonnie Ramsey.

Carolyn Hawker lives in Oak Hall and is an art major. Her activities in the past two years have included membership in the Oriental Club, the Art Club and Le Cercle Français. Carolyn also has served as a hall chairman, is presently the vice president of the junior class and is directing the committees for the Ring Dance. Her campaign manager is Joan Dolan.

Van Newman is a history major from Danville. She has served on the Research and Evaluation Committee of SGA, and has been chairman of the Welfare and the Grace Minutes Committees. Van held the position of treasurer in Marshall dorm last year and is Westmoreland president in the current session. She was also a class officer and a hall chairman. Anne Liddy is acting as Van's campaign manager.

The third candidate for SGA president is Bonnie Ramsey, a home economics major from Phoenixville, Pa. She is presently the president of Virginia dorm. Bonnie has been co-chairman of the House Presidents Training Program, a member of SGA Legislative Council, and a member of the campus Evaluation Committee. She is also the secretary of Alpha Phi Sigma, vice president of Kappa Omicron Phi, SGA reporter and social chairman, and a member of the Home Economics Club. Her campaign manager is Kris Butler.

The candidates for Honor Council president are Alice Andrews, Pat Flynn and Betty Gregory. Alice Andrews hails from Richmond and is an English major. Serving as president of her Sophomore class, Alice also held a position on the Honor Council. "This year she is an SGA Judicial Representative. Alice is a member of Sigma Tau Delta and has served as Willard vice president and a member of May Court in 1962. She was the recipient of the Outstanding Sophomore Award. Donna Gluskey is Alice's campaign manager.

Pat Flynn, a medical technology major from Tampa, Florida, is presently a freshman counselor, and a member of the Tetrapi Club, the Newman Club and Mu Alpha Chi. Kay Hatcher is serving as Pat's campaign manager. Betty Gregory resides in Tuntail and is a psychology major. She is a member of the Home Economics Club and the Physical Therapy Club. She is currently the house president of Willard. Ruth Hill is Betty's campaign manager.

Publicity for these six candidates has been on campus during the past week, and buzz sessions have been held in the dorms. Campaign speeches will be given on February 18 at 6:45 in GW Auditorium with voting after the speeches. Run-off elections, if necessary, are scheduled for the following day, and the results will be announced at 6:45 that evening in the Student Body meeting.

Informal Dance Features Combo

The Sophomore Class will sponsor an informal dance February 23, in Ann Carter Lee Ballroom from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. The dance is a class project and is the first of this kind to be held on campus. The dance will feature a combo from Richmond, the Leaguers. Tickets were put on sale Thursday, February 14, and will be sold in the dormitories by class officers.

The Leaguers is a group of five college students who started playing together while in junior high school. The boys are now college juniors, but they manage to play for college and club engagements. Bob Dunville is the leader of the group. He attends the University of Richmond and plays a guitar. George Tiller who also attends U. of R. plays drums.

Temmy Kreite attends the University of Virginia and plays bass. Jay Roberts plays the piano and is a student at U. Va. also. Mike Ash, who attends Virginia Tech, plays the saxophone, and Mike Childress, a junior at Douglass Freeman High School in Richmond, plays bass.

REMINDERS

The minimum size for envelopes handed by U. S. Post Office is 7 1/2 x 4 1/4 inches.

The next program on the Concert Series is scheduled for 8:15 in the evening on March 31, George Washington Auditorium.

RA Sponsors Presentation By College Dance Groups

A dance presentation, sponsored by the Recreation Association, will be given Friday and Saturday nights, March 1 and 2, by the Dance Clubs of MWC. There will be no admission charge for the shows which will begin at 8:15 p.m. in duPont Auditorium.

The first half of the concert will be an informal lecture-demonstration illustrating improvisation and exploration of movement. A variety of dances, choregraphed by members of the modern dance groups, will be presented after intermission.

Mrs. Claudia Reed, professor of health, physical education, and recreation, is directing the Concert and Apprentice dance groups. These two groups work together in presenting the program. Among the dances are three to folk-type music (Shall We Come Round the Mountain, I've Got Plenty of Nuthin', and Dear Com- panion) and one in the contemporary jazz idiom.

Faces, a dance based on The Three Faces of Eve, was choreographed by Kay Rogers. Mrs. Reed has choreographed Celebration.

Cathy Foster and Betty Loving have their own choreography for their duet, Elizabeth and Mary. This dance depicts, through movement, the historical episode of Mary Stuart's imprisonment by Elizabeth I. The Wall, choreographed by the dancers, reflects the effects of the Berlin Wall.

Two dances which were performed Tuesday night as part of Religious Emphasis Week will also be presented. They are Women of the Bible and Hymn of Faith.

The Junior Dance group will present several short dances of traditional patterns such as the polka, waltz, tango, and schottische, choreographed by Mr. Ted Shaw. This group is under the direction of Miss Martha Darby, instructor in health, physical education and recreation.

Dancers Go To Richmond

Several members of the MWC Dance Clubs are representing the college today at the Virginia College Dance Festival in Richmond. The annual gathering takes place at the Virginia Museum Theater and includes a master class under Jose Limon, a luncheon, and a dance presentation by each college, to be criticized by Jose Limon.

The Mary Washington group will present Faces, choreographed by Kay Rogers and danced by Pat Ruffin, Mary Donahoe, and Kay Rogers.

Nominate for SGA President are Carolyn Hawker, Van Newman and Bonnie Ramsey.

The Russo-Chinese elections are scheduled for April. . . . Modern sufferings won another battle as women in Paraguay voted for the first time in a presidential election.

New members of the editorial staff of the paper were announced last week, and they will begin work with the next issue of The Bulletin, to be published on March 2.

The new Editor is an English major, who has served as Feature Editor and News Editor on The Bulletin staff. She has served as publicity chairman for her freshman and sophomore class projects, and has been a member of the MWC Chorus. Susan is serving as a Freshman Counselor in Virginia Hall this year, and is a member of the Concert Dance Group on campus.

First Page Editor is Penny Patridge, a sophomore and mathematics major from Waynesboro. Penny has been Sports Editor for The Bulletin, served as Freshman Judicial Representative to Student Government, and was an

Week Features Plays, Speakers

Why study a modern foreign language? This is the theme of Modern Foreign Language Week, to be observed this week, February 16-22. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Martha Watts.

The program will be launched on Monday at 4 p.m. in duPont Gallery. Dr. Ingo Müssi, Austrian Cultural Attaché, will discuss the Austrian art display which he has brought.

At 7 p.m. a panel discussion in duPont Auditorium will feature cultural attaches from France, Switzerland, Russia, Mexico, and Italy. Setting the keynote of the week, the panel will discuss some of the international problems resulting from a language barrier. A reception in Ann Carter Lee Ballroom will follow. Faculty and students are invited.

On Tuesday at 7:30 in duPont, Spanish and German students will further the theme of communication through languages by the presentation of a Spanish and a German play. The Spanish

Book Contest Offers Award

Students with a growing personal library have a chance to compete with others on campus for a cash prize, and to enter the Mary Loveman nationwide contest for book collectors.

The Student Book Collectors' Award of $50 is given on campus to the student who is judged to have the best personal library. $25 in trade books from the College Bookstore is given as second prize. All Mary Washington students are eligible. The winner of the contest, if a senior, or the outstanding senior collector entering the contest, will be the Mary Washington College nominee for the Mary Loveman National Award.

Entry blanks are available in the book store. Each student who wishes to enter the contest is asked to submit an entry blank as soon as possible.

The Bulletin room has moved from its crowded quarters in the basement of Custis to a basement room in the Willard side of Monroe.

Reporters should now place their stories in the Bulletin box in Anne Carter Lee. Any other students with suggestions or news items can use this box to notify the Bulletin staff.

Anyone interested in joining the Bulletin staff as a reporter, headline writer, copy reader, typist or other capacities should fill in the slip on page two.

Mixed Dorms Voted For Fall

With the exception of the freshmen, classes will be integrated within the dormitories at Mary Washington College beginning with the 1963-64 session.

This new housing policy has been accepted by the administration out of consideration of campus sentiment as expressed by the student body on the recent Student Government poll and the feeling reflected by the opinion of the student body at large.

Virginia, Willard, and Betty

Levin will continue to serve as freshman dormitories, and the policy concerning small dorms will be unchanged.

Miss Mary Ellen Stephenson, Assistant Dean of Students, has been meeting recently with the presidents and representatives from each class to consider the ways of administering effectively this new policy. Members of this committee include Barbara

"Linky" Booth, Judith Finger,

Penny Patridge, Grace Marie

Barnhart, and Pat Johnson.

Kathy Friedman and Miss Hargrove Dean of Students, serve in an ex officio capacity. This committee will serve to implement the new policy and suggest precedents to be employed.

A further change in this year, including the integration of the dormitories, is in regard to reserving suites. Without exception, three girls may not reserve a complete four-girl suite as has been the policy. Two girls may fill one room or four girls may serve a suite. A problem has arisen in the past from the remaining single bed in each unfilled room. Therefore, in an effort to ease this problem, this rule will become effective this year.

Further policies governing the allocation of students will be presented when plans are complete.

Staff Reveals Bulletin Editors

Susan Armistead, a junior from Danvers, Connecticut, has been named Editor-in-Chief of the Bulletin for the spring and fall semesters of 1963.

New members of the editorial staff of the paper were announced last week, and they will begin work with the next issue of The Bulletin, to be published on March 2.

The new Editor is an English major, who has served as Feature Editor and News Editor on The Bulletin staff. She has served as publicity chairman for her freshman and sophomore class projects, and has been a member of the MWC Chorus. Classes Select May Courts; Girls Represent Four States

May Court attendants have been chosen by the freshmen, sophomore and junior classes. The girls selected represent four states: New York, Kentucky, Maryland, and Virginia.

Two of the junior attendants, Sally Crenshaw and Janet Baggs will be making their second appearance in May Court. Janet Claire Baggs from Pelham Manor, New York, is a biology major. Her activities besides serving on May Court her freshman year, include class officer, handbook counselor, and R. A. representative from Willard dorm.

Sally Clay Crenshaw, who was on May Court as a sophomore, is from Richmond. A history major, Sally is also interested in sewing and hockey and plays on the MWC hockey team. She is also a member of the Formal Dance Committee and has been an honor counselor and presently serves as NWC secretary.

Sara Page Cosby, also from Richmond, is a home economics major. Sara Page's activities include membership in the home economics Sophomore and secretary of the junior class.

The Kentucky member of the May Court is a junior attendant, Patricia Hendry Moore. Loretta, Sally, Patti is a history major, and her interests include tennis, swimming and golf.

All four of the sophomore attendants are from Virginia. Stephanie Ann Cadman is from Arlington and is an elementary education major. Sewing, tennis, and playing the piano are Stephanie's interests in her spare time.

Carolyn Marie Hamblin is from Richmond and is at present undecided upon her major field. Her list of activities includes hall chairman, membership in the class blazer committee, and lost and found chairman in Willard dorm.

Carolyn Ann Kennett, from Norfolk, is making her second appearance on May Court having been elected last year as a freshman representative. Her major is mathematics.

Judith Ann Royal from Lynhaven, is also undecided about her major field of study. Her interests include tennis, the theatre, and bowling. She is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, the honorary dramatics fraternity, and Zeta Phi Eta, the honorary speech fraternity.

Of the freshman members of May Court, three are Virginia residents and one, Sarah Charlotte Albrecht, is from Severna Park, Maryland. Sally plans to major in biology, but has interest in swimming, tennis, knitting, and art, and she served as co-chairman of the Christmas Decorations committee for Willard Dormitory.

Jennifer Lee Jamison, from Arlington, is undecided at present about her major, but, like Sally, is interested in swimming and tennis. Jamie is also a member of the International Relations Club.

Sandrine Lipucchi is a history major from Alexandria. Her interests include writing, painting, back riding, ice skating, tennis, and swimming.

Christine Jean Miller, from McLean, plans to major in economics. Christine is the freshman legislative representative to Student Government and is also a member of the Loyalty Link Committee.

Christine's interests include back riding, ice skating, tennis, and swimming.

Fashion School Offers Women Four Fellowships

Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers in New York City announced today that as many as four full-tuition Fashion Fellowships may be awarded to senior women graduating from college in 1963. Now in its twenty-sixth year, the widely-known school will make its annual awards this spring. Each fellowship covers the full tuition of $1600 for the One Year Course, and all women graduates graduating from four-year colleges in 1963 before August 21 are eligible to apply.

Fashion Fellowships are offered to encourage promising college graduates to enter a profession which offers unusual opportunities for advancement to well-trained young women. Graduates hold a wide variety of positions in merchandising, advertising, fashion coordination, magazines, newspapers and as owners of their own shops. The school maintains an active placement service to help graduates throughout their careers.

The one-year course is a carefully organized program of specialized training, planned to provide a broad background for entering any phase of distribution influence by fashion. It offers close contact with the fashion industry through frequent lectures by fashion personalities, and visits to manufacturers, buying offices, fashion shows, museums, and events of social importance.

Ten full weeks of paid work in New York stores and other fashion organizations provide on-the-job experience to supplement and enrich the classroom training.

Senior women may secure Fashion registration blanks from the Dean of Women, the Vocational Office, or from the Fashion Fellowship Secretary, Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers, 461 Madison Avenue, New York 21, New York.

Registration closes January 28, 1963.

Admiral Felix Stump, vice chairman and chief executive of the Board of Directors of the Freedoms Foundation, spoke on "The Growing Threat of Communism" February 10 in Monroe Auditorium.

In his speech, he gave examples of the penetration of communism into smaller countries and pointed out that "little nations want our leadership" but that they won't approach us for it.

He also stated that the way to win the war against Communism is to win the nationalist nations, but that we can't expect to win them if we allow Communism to enter the countries first.

He stressed the question of the prestige of the United States, and stated that it is important to maintain our established prestige. He confirmed the fact that the American people should back our President in his actions.

Admiral Stump travels to the Far East every year and is able to see the results of such penetrations.

He received his Masters Degree from MIT. Since then, he has had a distinguished active service record with the U. S. Navy, until he retired in 1958.

Day Student Awarded Faulkner Scholarship

Patricia Lee O'Bryhim was selected January 14 to be the recipient of the Faulkner Memorial Scholarship.

This scholarship, in memory of the late Ronald W. Faulkner, associate professor of music at Mary Washington College, was a gift to Mu Phi Epsilon, the music fraternity, from his wife, Mrs. Lela Faulkner.

A scholarship is awarded each year by Mu Phi Epsilon for one semester in applied music offered at the College. The auditions are open to any student at Mary Washington College not necessarily a music major.

The committee of judges for the Mu Phi Epsilon Scholarship consists of two representatives of Mu Phi and judges selected either from the music faculty or from faculty members recommended by the music faculty. The Faulkner Memorial Scholarship audition was judged by Mrs. Anne Hamer and Mrs. Vera Ross, associate professors of music at Mary Washington College. Miss O'Bryhim, the recipient of the Faulkner Memorial Scholarship, is a day student living in Fredericksburg and is majoring in music. She plans to use the scholarship money to continue her study in piano.

Mu Phi Epsilon is planning to offer its scholarship next semester as the opportunities for it are limited. Thank you on behalf of the Honor Committee.

Jobs Available to Students In Summer Scout Camps

The last day of vacation will be the only unhappy one for hundreds of college girls and women graduate students who spend the summer in Girl Scout camps across the country.

Operated by nearly 600 Girl Scout councils throughout the country, these camps give many thousands of girls 7 through 17 years old a chance to live, work and play with girls of differing backgrounds, in the relaxed, informal atmosphere of the out-of-doors.

College credit for camp field experience is allowed by many schools toward degrees in such subjects as group work, social work, sociology, education, science, physical education, and recreation. Whether or not the job counts toward your degree, the experience furnishes invaluable insights into the attitudes and reactions of girls, and into the modern camping and human relations procedures in which the Girl Scouts have pioneered.

Moreover, work at a Girl Scout camp furnishes a practical background for future participation in the growing school camp program. School systems regard it as a most desirable type of experience in candidates for all teaching jobs. It is practically a "must" for girls preparing for professional careers in Girl Scouting or in similar youth movements.

In addition to professional preparation, work at a Girl Scout camp gives women chances to engage in their hobbies and personal interests and to acquire new photography, outdoor sports, dramatics, and nature study. And the opportunity for an expense-free summer in the out-of-doors seems almost like a vacation with pay.

Particularly needed are counselors to live and work with girls in the wholesome partnership which marks Girl Scout adult-child relationships. Of course, previous camping experience is helpful. Among the basic requirements are good health, enthusiasm, patience, adaptability, and love of children.

Candidates also must be in sympathy with the objectives and philosophy of Girl Scouting. For students 21 or older, there are numerous openings for unit staff requiring previous experience as a teacher, leader, or counselor—and for waterfront directors—requiring current water safety instructor's certificate.

Other specialized jobs for women at least 21 years old include program consultant to work with girls in a wide variety of special interests and activities, such as songs and games, dramatics, arts and crafts, nature, and assistant camp director or which camping, administrative and supervisory experience, plus familiarity with the Girl Scout program, are essential.

Unit counselors and assistant waterfront directors with the required experience may be as young as 18. This also is the minimum age for the thousands of counselors needed to live and work with girls in their units.

Salaries vary with the assignment and with the candidate's experience, qualifications and training. Depending on the length of the camp season and the location of the camp, such incidentals as laundry and travel expenses may be included. A basic pre-camp training session of about five days' duration is provided for all staff members.

College girls and women graduate students interested in spending a summer near home that combines outdoor living with professional preparation should call the nearby Girl Scout office—usually listed under "G" in the phone book—or visit the local office of the State Employment Service, for information on available openings; or you may wish to consult the College Placement Office. For jobs in other areas, write directly to Miss Fanchon Hamilton, recruitment and Referral Adviser, at Girl Scout national headquarters, 630 Third Avenue, New York 22, New York.

SGA Announces Officer Nominees

At a student body meeting on February 8, the slate of nominees for the 1963-64 Student Government Association president and the Honor Council president was announced. SGA presidential candidates are Carolyn Hawker, Van Newman and Bonnie Ramsey.

Carolyn Hawker lives in Oak Hall and is an art major. Her activities in the past two years have included membership in the Oriental Club, the Art Club and Le Cercle Français. Carolyn also has served as a hall chairman, is presently the vice president of the junior class and is directing the committees for the Ring Dance. Her campaign manager is Joan Dolan.

Van Newman is a history major from Danville. She has served on the Research and Evaluation Committee of SGA, and has been chairman of the Welfare and the Grace Minutes Committees. Van held the position of treasurer in Marshall dorm last year and is Westmoreland president in the current session. She was also a class usher and a hall chairman. Anne Lardy is acting as Van's campaign manager.

The third candidate for SGA president is Bonnie Ramsey, a home economics major from Phenixville, Pa. She is presently the president of Virginia dorm. Bonnie has been co-chairman of the House Presidents Training Program, a member of SGA Legislative Council, and a member of the Campus Evaluation Committee. She is also the secretary of Alpha Phi Sigma vice president of Kappa Omicron Psi, SGA reporter and social chairman, and a member of the Home Economics Club. Her campaign manager is Kris Butler.

The candidates for Honor Council president are Alice Andrews, Pat Flynn and Betty Gregory. Alice Andrews hails from Richmond and is an English major. Serving as president of her Sophomore class, Alice also held a position on the Honor Council. This year she is an SGA Judicial Representative. Alice is a member of Sigma Tau Delta and has served as Willard vice president and a member of May Court, in 1962. She was the recipient of the Outstanding Sophomore award. Donna Glaspey is Alice's campaign manager.

RA Sponsors Presentation By College Dance Groups

A dance presentation, sponsored by the Recreation Association, will be given Friday and Saturday nights, March 1 and 2, by the Dance Clubs of MWC. There will be no admission charge for the shows which will begin at 8:15 p.m. in duPont auditorium.

The first half of the concert will be an informal lecture-demonstration illustrating improvisation and exploration of movement. A variety of dances, choregraphed by members of the modern dance groups, will be presented after intermission.

Mrs. Claudia Head, professor of health, physical education, and recreation, is directing the concert and Apprentice dance groups. These two groups work together in presenting the program.

Among the dances are three to folk-type music (Shelby Beaming Round the Mountain, I've Got Plenty of Noshin', and Dear Companion) and one in the contemporary jazz idiom.

Faces, a dance based on the Three Faces of Eve, was choreographed by Kay Rogers. Mrs. Head has choreographed Celebration.

Cathy Foster and Betsy Lovell have done their own choreography for their duet, Elizabeth and Mary. This, a dance depicting, through movement, the historical episode of Mary Stuart's imprisonment by Elizabeth I. The Wall, choreographed by the dancers, reflects the effects of the Berlin Wall.

Two dances which were performed Tuesday night as part of Religious Emphasis Week will also be presented. They are Women of the Bible and Hymn of Faith.

The Junior Dance group will present several short dances of traditional patterns such as the polka, mazurka, tango, and schottische, choreographed by Mr. Ted Shaw. This group is under the direction of Miss Martha Darby, instructor in health, physical education and recreation.

Dancers Go To Richmond

The annual gathering takes place at the Virginia Museum Theater and includes a master class under Joe Limon, a luncheon, and a dance presentation by each college, to be criticized by Joe Limon.

The Mary Washington group will present Faces, choreographed by Kay Rogers and danced by Pat Rogers, Mary Donahoe, and Kay Rogers.

Nominate for SGA President are Carolyn Hawker, Van Newman and Bonnie Ramsey.

Week Features Plays, Speakers

Why study a modern foreign language? This is the theme of the Modern Foreign Language Week, to be observed this week, February 18-22. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Martha Watts.

The program will be launched on Monday at 4 p.m. in duPont Gallery. Dr. Ingo Müssi, Austrian Cultural Attaché, will discuss the Austrian art display which has brought.

A 7 p.m. panel discussion in duPont Auditorium will feature cultural attaches from France, Switzerland, Russia, Mexico, and Italy. Setting the keynote of the week, the panel will discuss some of the international problems resulting from a language barrier. A reception in Ann Carter Lee Ballroom will follow. Faculty and students are invited.

On Tuesday at 7:30 in duPont, Spanish and German students will further the theme of communication through language by the presentation of a Spanish and a German play. The Spanish play, "La Marquessa Rosalinda," is directed by Miss Pauline de la Torre. Dr. Zoltan Anthony will direct the German play, "Till Eulenspiegel als Zuhälter." Student casts are featured in both plays.

Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., French, Italian, and Russian students will present a program of poetry, and drama in duPont Auditorium, emphasizing still another phase of cultural understanding. The students are directed by Mrs. Anne Lambert. Dr. Lia Beretta, and Mr. Joseph Bozicevic, respectively.

The week will be brought to a close on Thursday at 8:30 p.m. with a French movie, "The Game of Love," by Colette, shown in George Washington Auditorium.

According to Mrs. Martha Watts, chairman of the committee for Modern Foreign Languages Week, the purpose of the program is to show the student the necessary role of language in achieving "genuine understanding between people and nations."

The department hopes to illustrate not only the necessity of studying languages, but the variety of channels these studies can follow.

The department will be emphasized by an exhibit of books and periodicals in the Trinkle Library and Dupont Gallery throughout the week. To reach even more students, grace at the sit-down meals during that week will be in the different languages.

Mixed Dorms Voted For Fall

With the exception of the freshmen, classes will be integrated within the dormitories of Mary Washington College beginning with the 1963-64 session.

This new housing policy has been accepted by the administration out of consideration of the student body on the recent Student Government poll and the feeling reflected by the members of the Student Council Association. As stated by the Office of the Dean of Students, it is a policy which results from the impossibility of housing a class within one dormitory and the indicated opinion of the student body at large.

Virginia, Willard, and Betty Lewis will continue to serve as freshman dormitories, and the policy concerning small dorms will be unchanged.

Miss Mary Ellen Stephenson, Assistant Dean of Students, has been meeting recently with the presidents and representatives from each class to consider the ways of administering effectively this new policy. Members of this committee include Barbara "Linky" Booth, Judith Finger, Sandy Marsteller, Debbie Beach, Penny Partridge, Grace Marie Barnhart, and Pat Johnson. Kathy Friedman and Miss Harrogate, Dean of Students, serve in an ex officio capacity. This committee will serve to implement the new policy and suggest precedents to be employed.

A further change this year including the integration of the dormitories is in regard to reserving suites. Without exception, three girls may not reserve a complete four-girl suite as has been the policy. Two girls may fill one room or four girls may reserve a suite. A problem has arisen in the past from the remaining single bed in each unit. Therefore, in an effort to ease this problem this rule will be made effective this year.

Further policies governing the allocation of students will be presented when plans are complete.

Staff Reveals Bulletin Editors

New members of the editorial staff of the paper were announced last week and they will begin work with the next issue of the Bulletin, to be published on March 2.

The new Editor is an English major, who has served as Feature Editor and News Editor on the Bulletin staff. She has served as publicity chairman for her freshman and sophomore class projects, and has been a member of the MWC Chorus. Susan is serving as a Freshman Counselor in Virginia Hall this year, and is a member of the Council Dance Group on campus.

First Page Editor is Penny Partridge, a sophomore and mathematics major from Waynesboro. Penny has been Staff Editor of the Bulletin, served as Freshman Judicial Representative to Student Government, and was an Honor Counselor. Penny is Chairman of the Sophomore Leadership Training Committee, on R. A. Council, and served last year as Editor-in-Chief of the Bulletin.

Classes Select May Courts; Girls Represent Four States

May Court attendants have been chosen by the freshman, sophomore and junior classes. The girls selected represent four states: New York, Kentucky and Maryland, and Virginia.

Two of the junior attendants, Sally Crenshaw and Janet Bagg, will be making their second appearance in May Court. Janet Claire Bagg from Pelham Manor, New York, is a biology major. Her activities include serving on May Court as freshman year, include class usher, handbook counselor, and R. A. representative from Willard dorm.

Sally Clay Crenshaw, who was on May Court as a sophomore, is from Richmond. A history major, Sally is also interested in sewing and hockey and plays on the MWC hockey team. She is also a member of the Formal Dance Committee and has been an honor counselor and presently serves as TWCA secretary.

Sara Page Cosby, also from Richmond, is a home economics major. Sara Page's activities include membership in the come economics club and secretary of the junior class.

The Kentucky member of the May Court is a junior attendant, Patricia Hendry Moore. Like Sally, Patricia is a history major, and her interests include tennis, swimming and golf.

All four of the sophomore attendants are from Virginia. Stephanie Ann Cadman from Lynnhaven is an elementary education major. Sewing, tennis, and playing the piano are Stephanie's interests in her spare time.

Carolyn Marie Hamblet is from Richmond and is at present undecided upon her major field. Her list of activities includes hall chairman, membership on the class blazer committee, and lost and found chairman in Willard dorm.

Carolyn Ann Kennett, from Norfolk, is making her second appearance on May Court having been elected last year as a freshman representative. Her major is mathematics.

Judith Ann Royal from Lynnhaven is also undecided about her major field of study. Her interests include tennis, the theatre, and bowling. She is a member of Alpha Phi Omega, the honorary dramatics fraternity, and Zeta Phi Eta, the honorary speech fraternity.

Of the freshman members of the May Court, three are Virginia residents: one, Sarah Charlotte Albrecht, is from Severn Park, Maryland. Sally plans to major in biology, but has interest in swimming, tennis, knitting, and art, and she served as co-chairman of the Christmas Decorations committee for Willard Dormitories. Jennifer Lee Jamison from Arlington, is undecided at present about her major, but like Sally, is interested in swimming and tennis. Janice is also a member of the International Relations Club.

Suzanne Lipuche is a history major from Alexandria. Her interests include writing, painting, and playing the piano. Sandy represents one of the freshman representatives to the Judicial Council of Student Government.

Christine Jean Miller, from MeLean, plans to major in economics. Chris is the freshman legislator in representation to the Student Government and is also a member of the Loyalty Night Committee. Her interests include horseback riding, ice skating, tennis, and swimming.

Presidential Candidates For ICA, RA, Y Slated

The slate of candidates for Recreation Association, YWCA and Intercollegiate Association presidents announced at the Student Body meeting held last week.

Janet Bagg, Roberta Klar, Jane Shooker and Sue Tait were nominated for RA president. Janet Bagg is a biology major from Pelham Manor, New York. She has participated in RA activities during her stay at MWC since her arrival and was a member of the Willard and Westmoreland representatives. She has also worked on the volleyball, lacrosse, social and Devil-Goat Day committees. Janet also has been a member of May Court, a class usher, a member of the YWCA and a hand-book counsellor. Tabby debuts in her campaign manager.

Roberta Klar is a physical education major from Arlington. Actively participating in RA work, Roberta is the chairman of the dorm representatives and is on the Executive Council. She is also a member of the home basketball and basketball teams and the Physical Education Club. Devan Ollfeld is serving as Roberta's campaign manager.

Jane Shooker, a psychology major from Frazzville, has served as the RA lacrosse committee chairman and as a member of the home basketball team. Martha Jones is Jane's campaign manager.

Sue Tait has been active on several RA committees including volleyball basketball, and the Devil-Goat Day committees. She also was a hall chairman and a hand-book counsellor. She hails from Alexandria and is a chemistry major. Cathy Morrison is her campaign manager.

There are two candidates for the president of the YWCA. Barbara Kellan and Susan Solf. Barbara is a sociology major from Cheriton. She has served as the vice president of the Methodist Student Fellowship and is a Freshman counselor. Isle Gelinek is her campaign manager.

Susan Solf is a sociology major from Alexandria. She is presently the vice president of the Y and chairman of the activities for Religious Emphasis Week. Susan has also held the positions of secretary of Randolph and chairman of the YWCA Social Service Committee and is a member of Sigma Omega Chi. Sally Atkins is Susan's campaign manager.

ICA nominees include Bena Ginsburg, Ann McCallum and Anne Raymond. The first candidate is Bena Ginsburg, a psychology major from Arlington. She has served as the publicity chairman of SEA, secretary and president of Hill and is a member of IRC. Ann Watterson is her campaign manager.

Ann McCallum is a history major from Port Eustis. She is presently president of the International Relations Club and a Freshman counselor. Ann has also served as chairman of the Red Cross Blood Bank committee, Special Programs Committee and is a member of SEA. Her campaign manager is Anne Plummer.

Anne Raymond, a home economics major, is from Vienna. She is currently secretary of ICA, secretary of Kappa Omicron Phi and a member of the Home Economics Club. Rosalyn Murry is her campaign manager.

The publicity week for the ICA, YWCA and the RA with buzz sessions in the dorms will be February 20-27. Speeches and elections will be held on February 25, and run-off elections are scheduled for February 28 when the results will also be announced.

Susie Solf and Barbara Kellan are the nominees for YWCA President.

Berta Klar, Janet Bagg, Susan Tait and Jane Shooker are candidates for RA President.

Season Open For Fencers

The 1963 Fencing Season has gotten into full swing here at Mary Washington and other colleges. Up and coming on the agenda for MWC's home fencing team are two matches with rival schools—Madison and William and Mary, March 23, is a tentative date set for the MWC-Madison match there at Harrisonburg.

The Honor Fencing Team is composed of members of the Fencing Club.

Club members this year are Marilyn Travis, president; Mary Ellen Morris, secretary-treasurer; Ann Watterson; Susan Carter; Pat Jory; and Sue Wallace.

Last January 5, five of the club members and their sponsor, Miss Ann Henderson, were able to attend a Fencing workshop at Madison College that was held for area schools. They participated in individual instruction groups and lecture demonstrations led by fencing instructors from the Madison College physical education department and those from other colleges.

The members of the MWC Fencing Team are now busily preparing for their matches. Dr. J. R. Nazzaro, professor in the physiology department, has been giving instruction and criticism to the team for over a year now, and he has been a tremendous help to all the girls in the club.

Bena Ginsburg, Anne McCallum, and Anne Raymond have been nominated for ICA President.

Honor Basketball Teams Take Victories Over Visitors

The Mary Washington College Honor Basketball Teams entertained two opponents from Richmond on Saturday, February 9. The first team defeated Richmond Professional Institute 39-28, while the second unit easily downed the Medical College of Virginia Nurses 34-14.

In the initial battle, the local sextet broke the game open in the third quarter, spurting to a 30-point lead. Co-captain Marianne Finchum and Linda Morrison paced the MW scoring with 15 and 13 points, respectively. Carol Trent, Regina Arthur, co-captain Rachel Newbill, Martha Sue Jones, and Linda Reading also participated in the contest. Goodwin led the leaders with 8 points.

In the second game Dee Marks, Ann Dunman, and Regina Arthur led the local unit with 10, 8, and 7 points, respectively. Other players in the game were Roberta Klar, Linda Pomeroy, co-captain Mary K. Powell, Mary Lee Fink, Rosemary Moseley and C. B. Morrison. The opposition was paced by 8 points.

The Intramural Basketball program sponsored by the Recreation Association will again go into effect. Sign-ups for teams were held during the past week, but anyone who wishes to play and has not signed up may contact Ruth Larsen, chairman of intramural basketball, to see if there is a possible vacancy. Schedules for league games will be soon posted.

The Recreation Association recently voted to establish an annual Ruda Brown Memorial Trophy Award, his award to the outstanding player on the Honor Basketball team was set up last year as a memorial to Ruda Brown, who served as President of the Recreation Association until her death in January, 1962. The winner of the award will be selected by members of the honor teams.

Visiting Speakers, Faculty Chorus, Players, Dancers Take Part in RE Week

"Faith Confronts Anxiety" was the theme of Religious Emphasis Week, which ended Thursday. Daily conferences, seminars, and general sessions were under the direction of the YWCA.

Monday, February 11, a seminar headed by Dr. William B. Oglesby, Professor at Union Theological Seminary, discussed the "Flight of Religion on the Campus." The first general session presented the topic "Faith Confronts the Individual's Anxieties." Susan Soff, vice president of YWCA, presided. Dr. Oglesby and Chancellor Simpson were speakers.

Tuesday's theme was "The Arts Confront Anxiety." A program featuring the Chorus, Mary Washington Players, and Dancers was presented in Du Pont Little Theater. Student art was also on exhibit in Du Pont Galleries.

"The Agony of Decision" was the topic of the first general session on Wednesday. Dean Edward Alvey and Dr. Elton Trueblood, author and professor at Earlham College in Richmond, Indiana, were speakers. Dean Margaret Hargrove and Dr. Raymond Seeger, deputy assistant director of the National Science Foundation, spoke at the second general session. The topic was "Faith Confronts Scientific Advance."

Dr. Seeger also conducted a seminar discussing "A Paradox—Does Science Cause or Cure Anxiety?"

On Thursday, Mr. Oche R. Howell, Jr., Chief of Administrative Services for the Peace Corps, directed a seminar covering the topic "The Peace Corps and the Individual's Anxieties." Other speakers were Harriet Davis, president of YWCA, and Dean Mary Ellen Stephenson and Mr. Howell were guest speakers.

Special Film This Week

"Question 7," the campus movie to be shown tonight, was selected as "Best Film of the Year," by the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures. It has received wide critical acclaim from religious and secular press alike.

The award winning story portrays a 15 year old boy caught between the enticements and demands of his Communist masters in East Germany and the love and concern of his own parents, who try to instill in the boy the faith and strength to resist. The boy's schoolteacher pulls one way, his father the other, but the boy's ambition, his future, his life and eternity.

MWC Artists Enter Contest

Five MWC art students have entered oils in The Second Virginia Collegiate Art Show at the Twentieth Century Gallery in Williamsburg.

Those entering the contest include Edna Armstrong, Ethel Armstrong, Carolyn Hawker, Denise Lynch, and Cordelia Regal. Other institutions whose students have entered the contest are the College of William and Mary, Hampton Institute, Old Dominion College, and the University of Virginia.

U.Va., MW Bands Will Play Together In Annual Concert

The combined bands of the University of Virginia and Mary Washington College under the direction of Sidney Hodgkinson and Lloyd Farrar, will present a concert in George Washington Auditorium on February 28 at 8:15 p.m.

The concert will be centered around the theme of an evening of music for romantic people. The first selection, "Overture for Band" by Mendelssohn, was composed in 1824 and is one of the first pieces composed for bands.

Other selections will be two movements from Persichetti's "Symphony for Band," one of the most important symphonies composed for band to date.

The combined bands will also perform a transcription of "Gaudete" intensely emotional. "Allegretto." Aaron Copland's "Variations on a Shaker Melody" (from his Pulitzer Prize 1945) winning ballet for Martha Graham, two of Percy Grainger's songs, "A Colonial Song" and "Lads of Wamphray March," both written before World War I, and Cowell's simple and folk-like "Singing Band."

The entire second half of the concert will be centered around the theme of romanticism and folk song elements in the symphonic setting.

The concert will be free; the dress casual; and everyone is invited.

Dabney Lipscomb Becomes Mortar Board President

Dabney Lipscomb, a senior majoring in history, will assume the position of president of Mortar Board for this semester. Dabney replaces Diane Lovewell of Arlington who was unable to return for the second semester because of sickness.

Dabney, president of Pi Gamma Mu Honorary Social Sciences Fraternity, is from Thomsville, North Carolina. She served as secretary of Mortar Board until her election to the presidency.

'Swap Shop' To Be Held In Chandler

Do you have clothes which never move from the hanger, or accessories which never leave the drawer? Let Kappa Omicron Phi help you sell them at their Swap Shop in Chandler 5 on February 20 and 21 between the hours of 3 and 8 p.m.

Students interested in the Swap Shop should bring these clothes to room 5 in Chandler on February 18 and 19 between 3 and 6 p.m. Owners of the articles in agreement with those in charge of the swap shop will set the prices of articles at this time.

Owners of articles will receive 65 per cent of the sales prices of articles while Kappa Omicron Phi will receive 15 per cent. The Home Economics Honorary will use this money to pay the fraternity's national dues.

Students should come to claim money from the sale of articles and any unsold articles after 6 p.m. on February 19.

The administration has recently announced an increase in student fees which will go into effect in September 1963. Tuition for non-Virginia students is scheduled to increase $50.00 over a previous fee of $365.00.

The laundry, infirmary, and room fees for all students will be lumped together into a "residential" fee totaling $226.00. The new fee represents a $47.00 increase over the 1962-63 sum. In addition, the board charge will rise $18.00 for all students.

Chancellor Simpson stated that the infirmary, laundry, and dining hall should be self-supporting. Previous charges have made it impossible to operate these services without supplementary aid from the state.

The increase in fees for Virginia residents totals $65.00. For non-Virginia students the total increase is $125.00.
